

ABOUT EGG ART

The art of egg decoration goes back to early civilizations, when eggs were colored and used as gifts to celebrate the re-birth of life on the Earth. From ancient times until now, eggs have been decorated in many ways. In France, from the 16th century onwards, it became customary to exchange elaborate surprise Easter Eggs. The high point of all time was reached in the fabulous egg-shaped treasures created by the imaginative goldsmith of Russia, Peter Carl Faberge, and his meticulous artists and craftsmen. Their creations have provided inspiration to many real eggshell decorators all over the world. The first Imperial Easter Egg was made by Faberge for Tsar Alexander III who gave it as a gift of love to his Tsarina, who hailed from Denmark.

The decorated eggs featured in this exhibition are individually hand-crafted making each piece a masterpiece of its own kind. Each egg has been created with great precision and ingenuity and involved several man hours of intricate work.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Farha Sayeed, who holds a Bachelor's degree in English Literature, pursues varied interests in arts and crafts. While she has passion for Egg Decorations (Ostrich, Emu, Rhea, Goose, Duck and Chicken Eggs) and Silk Painting, she is equally adept at charcoal painting, Thermo Cole painting, Tile Painting, Aluminium foil work, Glass Painting, glitter and zardori work and soft-toy making.

Farha started egg decorations seven years ago and has tried to give a distinct original touch to each of her creations by her imaginativeness and creativity. She has also experimented with the fusion of Indian cultural elements into her egg art.

Farha's collection of decorated eggs was first displayed in October 2003 for a month at the premises of the renowned Danish Pharmaceutical Company H. Lundbeck A/S by the Art Lovers' Group of the company.

Farha's maiden full-fledged exhibition of Decorated Eggs and Silk Paintings was hosted by the Frederiksberg Commune, Denmark at Byggeriets Hus from April 8- May 9, 2004.

A part of Farha's collection of decorated eggs was also displayed in the International Ramadan Exhibition titled "Ramadan around the World" held at Hotel Jeddah Intercontinental in October, 2005 which featured cultural exhibits of arts and crafts from various countries like Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Iran, Pakistan, India, Yemen, Sudan, Egypt, Tunisia, Brunei, Indonesia, Malaysia, Jordan, Palestine, Senegal, Morocco and Turkey.

Her work of art has been widely acclaimed by people from all walks of life. Many newspapers of Saudi Arabia and India have extensively written about her egg art.
